Leo lets the snake keep the cozy sock. You give Leo one of your socks, so now he wears two different socks and is all smiles.

14

Look, the trail goes right under the sofa blanket! Say that sss sound on the blanket, and guess what is hiding under there.

3

The sock is riding on the seesaw all by itself! What sound is that first letter on the seat? Look, it hopped down and dove right into the sandbox.

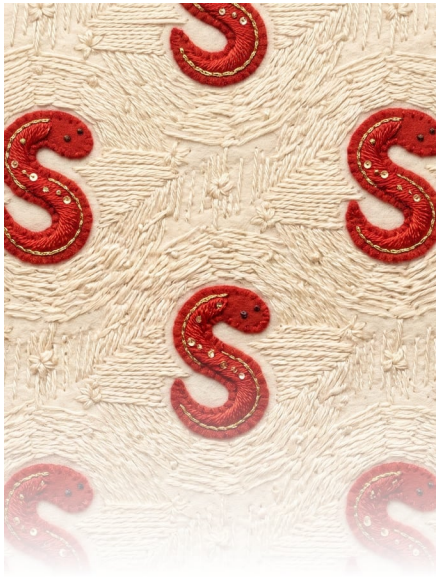

10

The wet trail goes behind the curtain, where a bright yellow glow is shining. Make that sss sound on the hem, and guess what is back there.

Leo's Lost Sock

By two parents and two kids at Lionpal

Leo pulled on the sock, and out popped a little snake! Read that first letter in snake. That is why the sock was wriggling all along.

12

Now the wet trail goes into the bathroom where something is splashing in the tub. Read that hissy sss sound in the bubbles, and guess what's in there!

5

You opened the curtain and found the sock drying in the warm sun. Read the first letter on that sun word! Now it is slipping out the door into the yard. 8

Out in the yard, the trail goes behind a big bush where something is bobbing up and down. Read the sss on the bush, and guess what the sock is doing! 9

You lifted the blanket and found Leo's sandwich! What sound is that first letter on the lunch bag? Look, the sock is squirming away again. 4

The snake curls up inside the warm sock and looks at Leo. Leo looks down at his cold foot and thinks about what to do. 13

The sock was scrubbing itself with the soap! Can you say the first letter on the soap bar? Now it is hopping out and sliding away. 6

There is a red lump in the sand that says sss. Can you make that hissy sound along with it, and guess what is buried under there? 11

Leo's all dressed but is missing something! What could it be? 2

Look at all the things we found! Point to each one, and say its name. 15
